Haunted Chemical Plant

Take a stroll through the plant during its very first toxic leak, and try to stop the plant from melt down. You will be guided in certain parts of the plant. We have lost electricity but have a few energy cells to turn on lights when we need them. Your job is to find the energy cells in each area of the factory and collect them until the end where you will see if you have collected enough energy cells to save us all. BEWARE! There has been toxic leaking throughout the factory so most of our employees have been exposed!! The toxic chemical that has leaked out makes them see things that are not there and drives them crazy!!!
